The Gatorade Company seeks to fuel health-conscious individuals and provide the optimal fluid replacement beverage for all active occasions. Gatorade thirst quencher, the nation's leading sports drink, is manufactured by PepsiCo Beverages and Foods, a division of PepsiCo. Other products include Propel Fitness Water, a lightly flavored water for active occasions, Gatorade Energy Drink, a high carbohydrate energy drink for carbo-loading and recovery, Gatorade Nutrition Shake, a nutritious meal supplement, and Gatorade Endurance Hydration Formula, a new specialized sports drink for elite and endurance athletes during their longer, more intense workouts.

As a service to the athletic community and sports medicine professional, Gatorade also provides educational resources through its own professional education and marketing division and through the Gatorade Sports Science Institute (GSSI). Continuing education credits are available for some of these offerings, which can be accessed or ordered through www.gssiweb.com.
